Welcome to New Faculty!! The Libraries are here for you!

Welcome to the Auburn Family.
At the Libraries we are happy to serve your information needs and I encourage you to make use of our many resources and services. You are always invited to schedule a tour of our libraries and to inquire about our resources. As your Education Librarian, it is my pleasure to help you with book orders, library instruction for students, and other questions you may have.

Welcome and War Eagle!!
The Educators' Library Update

The Librarian is in!

For the 2013-2014 academic year, I will be having weekly office hours in Kinesiology #103 on Tuesdays from 9:30 to 10:45 and in the Learning Resources Center (LRC) on Wednesdays from 11:00 a.m. to noon. I will be available to assist faculty, staff, and students with services provided by your Auburn University Libraries.

Award Winners in the Juvenile Collection

The Libraries have begun receiving the Children’s and Young Adult Award/Honors/Medal winners on approval plan each year in the spring semester. To search the catalog for these books, just enter “jaward.” Encourage students to come to RBD to find their juvenile literature resources for their assignments. Awards we receive include:

- Caldecott
- Coretta Scott King
- Edgar Allan Poe
- Great Graphic Novels for Teens Top Ten
- Green Earth
- Batchelder
- Printz
- Newberry
- Orbis Pictus
- Pura Belpré
- Sibert
- Scott O’Dell
- Theodor Seuss Geisel
- USBBY: Outstanding International Book List
- YALSA Award and Finalists.

Schedule Library Instruction for Your Classes.

Now is the time to schedule a library instruction session for your graduate and undergraduate classes. Students learn keyword searching, use of the databases, searching the catalog, or finding the full-text of an article. Library faculty also teach students how to evaluate sources, to distinguish scholarly, trade and popular journals, and to search and access online theses and dissertations.

If you teach online classes that do not meet on campus, then ask me about the online library instruction tutorial with accompanying active learning activities. The Libraries are here to assist your students with information literacy skills and good research habits.
